THE PAGE FOCUSES ON STUDENT LIFE . . .

Constant, endearing memories echo student life at PCH. Sitting under a palm tree sipping juice from a coconut is a great pastime for South Pacific Islanders. So the Juniors decide to try out the idea and take the Seniors to a tropical island for the annual prom. Developed team spirit and signs of victory characterized a successful year in sports. We remember (in a complimentary way) the "switherer" - a teacher - a man capable of sliding swiftly around all parts of any subject. We cannot forget the student whose daily study was oriented to his chosen subjects or the one whose avocation became vocation-related. The excitement of hosting the SCA, Forensic, and the District Solo and Ensemble delegates also featured respect for strength of character. Courtesy, crowds, warmth, tradition, honors, awards, and trophies were the subjects reflected in the echoes heard at PCH.

Page County's third annual homecoming football game played Warren County. Although the night was drizzly and damp, spirits were high as PCHS won the game 12-0. On the muddy field at half-time the homecoming court was presented. Mary Ruth Price was crowned by co-captain, Dave Phillips. The homecoming pageant and a win over Warren County shone even in the rain and mud.

JUNE 11, 1965

The Honorable John O. Marsh, Junior, member of the U.S. House of Representatives from the Seventh Congressional District addresses the 1965 graduating class.

"Pomp and Circumstance" brought the year to an end and turned a four-year dream into a reality. Listening to Congressman Marsh who used the themes of Matthew Arnold and John Donne, we felt a bit afraid. Mr. Marsh feeling that one duty of the commencement speaker is to knock out at least one crutch quoted the Dover-Beach lines "For the world, which seems to lie before us like a land of dreams, so various, so beautiful, so new, hath really neither joy, nor love, nor light, nor certitude, nor peace, nor help for pain; and we are here as on a darkling plain swept with confused alarms of struggle and flight, where ignorant armies clash by night."

The Choral Club sings "The Halls of Ivy".

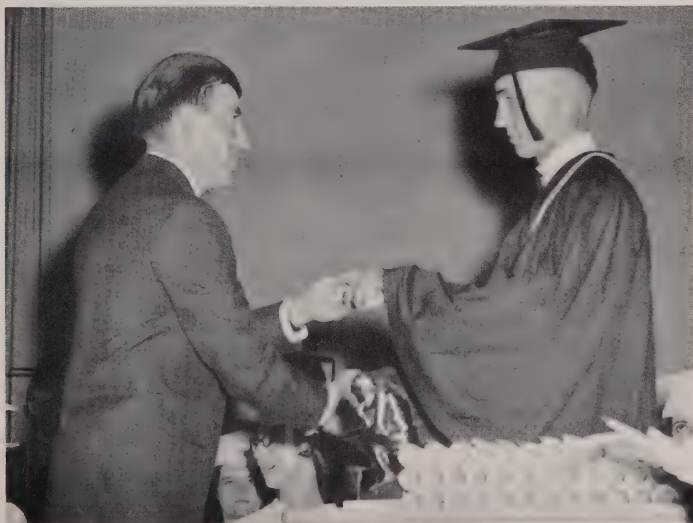

Mrs. Elsie Batman, Director of Ceremonies, checks on the lineup.

NINETY-FIVE SENIORS BECOME HONORED ALUMNI. . .

Representative Marsh emphasized that the pervasive effects of technology are making the unskilled worker obsolete and imposing the requirement of some training after high school even on those young people who will not go to college. This means that his background of general learning must be supplemented by specific saleable skills.

Principal S. R. Pugh presented the honors and awards.

Mr. Emmett Good, Chairman of the School Board, presents a diploma to Jerry Foltz, a NHS member.

THE PAGE FOCUSES ON CLUBS . . .

School organizations jumped positively into the picture ejecting a tonic like a lion-like momentum. Playing the role of leaders students filled positions in athletics, journalism, music, clubs and classrooms. The SCA and class campaigns and elections helped us to develop the political sense. FBLA, FHA, and FFA helped to prepare students for jobs after high school. Many activities, such as language clubs, math-science, forensic, and library groups developed special interests in the humanities. But belonging, scoring, and serving became the main goals. As members students could expand emotionally, academically, and socially. Relaxation and developed club spirit brought renewed evaluation of reality and crowned the human desire to be part of a larger, busier group.

PAGE SCA IS HOST TO FOURTEEN DISTRICT SCHOOLS . . .

On October 10, 1964, the District SCA meeting was held at our school. Fourteen schools sent representatives to the meeting. Honorable John Marsh gave the keynote speech in which he praised teenagers as people who are aware of their responsibilities and who want to pay by service and leadership.

Reaching toward the goal of establishing leadership and democracy among the students, the SCA inaugurated projects which emphasized school spirit and participation in school-sponsored activities. During the year SCA sponsored the THIRD ANNUAL HOMECOMING, Talent Show, National Education Week, and the District Meeting. Jane Brown wrote and produced the American-Education-Week Play. Judy Lam, Larry Alger, and Chuck Gravett were the student speakers for a patriotic program. Leadership and cooperation have created good will among the students.

GREAT AMERICANS was the theme of the second annual tapping ceremony. ## THE PAGE FOCUSES ON THE DISTRICT WINNERS . . .

It is exciting to capsule the history of the well-oiled Panther Teams that captured District 10's brass rings. The Panther Cagers made history with its unique defense revolving around Dave Phillips like a merry-go-round. It was a well-coached machine capturing the tournament's trophy from the Warren County Wildcats and scoring advantageously at the foul line in the state contest against the tall men from Blair. The Trackmen who won the district trophy took the 880 at the state meet. And our Glovemen won the southern division title in baseball. At the ATHLETIC AWARDS BANQUET four athletes received HALL OF FAME trophies as the top participants in their sports. Joe Rinaca, a grant-in-aid recipient, won the football award; Tommy Hall, a hurdler on the track team, won the sportsmanship award; David Phillips, all-state basketball center, won BOTH the cage and baseball awards; and Kenneth Burner, ace 440-yard dash man, won the track award. Their names will be permanently engraved on a plaque at the school. Trophies were also presented to the boys showing the most desire and team spirit. They were Allen Fravel, football; Larry Knight, basketball; Buddy Alger, shot put; and Donnie Knighton, baseball.

HOOP TO-DO

Dave Phillips is LEADING SCORER in District 10.

Winning the FIRST BASKETBALL TROPHY for PCH, the PANTHERS climaxed a great season by winning the TOURNEY CHAMPIONSHIP at Bridgewater College on February 26, 1965 with a 49-35 victory over Warren County.

Dave Phillips was chosen the MOST VALUABLE PLAYER of the tournament. Both Phillips and Kenneth Burner were placed on the ALL-STAR Team while Jerry Hoak was placed on the second team of the district.

HALFBACK JOE RINACA IS CAUGHT IN MOTION . . .

Named by the Daily News-Record to the ALL-AREA FOOTBALL TEAM, nominated by the Washington Post "all district" and by the Virginia Sports Writers and Sportscasters Associations "ALL-STATE" team, makes Joe one of the most honored of any PCH athlete.

Here is a modern halfback, a jet-propelled tank, who catches passes and goes all the way. Off the gridiron, Joe is a relaxed and happy student. He's as mild as a summer breeze and takes his fame lightly. College bound, he hopes to set new records for points scored and yards gained.

THE PAGE FOCUSES ON THE CLASSROOMS . . .

There is no place in the space age of today where a person can do poor work and succeed. The classroom-focus is on the TEACHER who WANTS TO TEACH and the STUDENT who WANTS TO LEARN. The student going modern in math learns the binary system, a system based on two, that is important to computers so vital in space work and in scores of other fields today. This speeds up things. A serious intellect investigates the whole world of human experience covering politics, arts, science, math, history, civilization, current events, books, newsfronts, adventure, health, medicine, and better living. There is more emphasis in many areas - on the humanities, slide rules, field trips, foreign languages, practical arts, the structural approach to grammar, and on INDIVIDUAL ACHIEVEMENT. The teacher and the student have one goal - a serious concern for individual advancement and for GOOD WORK.

ENGLISH TRAINS IN

PART-OF-LIVING ROLES

Progress toward unifying the aims and work of the ENGLISH department has been made. The first project was distributing guides for outlining and composition to all students and teachers in order to standardize these processes throughout high school. Later on book lists were compiled by teachers for each grade. As an outgrowth of a meeting with Mr. Wayne Bowman, of the Department of Education, courses of study used by various schools were secured by Mr. Sumner Pugh. After studying and discussing these courses recommendations were made about their use in our school. So the Department progresses toward a planned but flexible course of study at PCHS.

Larry Alger speaks on "Our Priceless Inheritance".

ENGLISH TEACHERS MEET WITH MR. WAYNE BOWMAN, OF STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION . . .

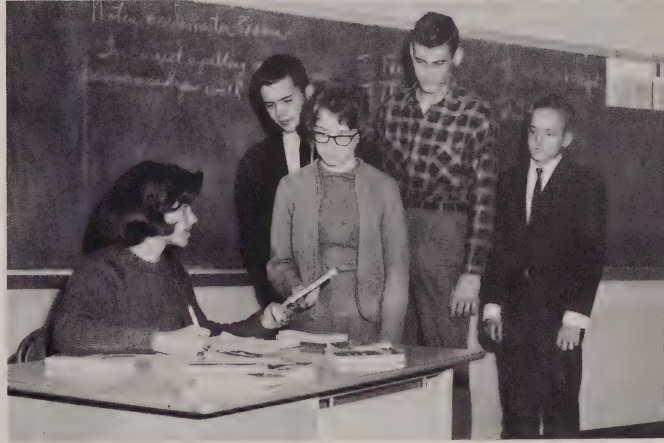

Barbara Gravett, newspaper columnist, interviews guidance counselors.

MR. RAMSEY'S SOPHOMORE ENGLISH CLASSES PROMOTE A BOOK CLUB . . .

Mrs. Gene Hall's JUNIOR ENGLISH CLASSES use the group method of improving written compositions. The student reads aloud the composition to his individual group and then receives comments for improving the paper from his fellow students. In this group are Kenny Gray, Sandra Moore, David Cabbage, Page Blosser, Douglas Burner, Eugene Kiblinger, Larry Daniels, Patsy Walters, Holly Hensley, Harry Mayes, and Linda Rodgers.

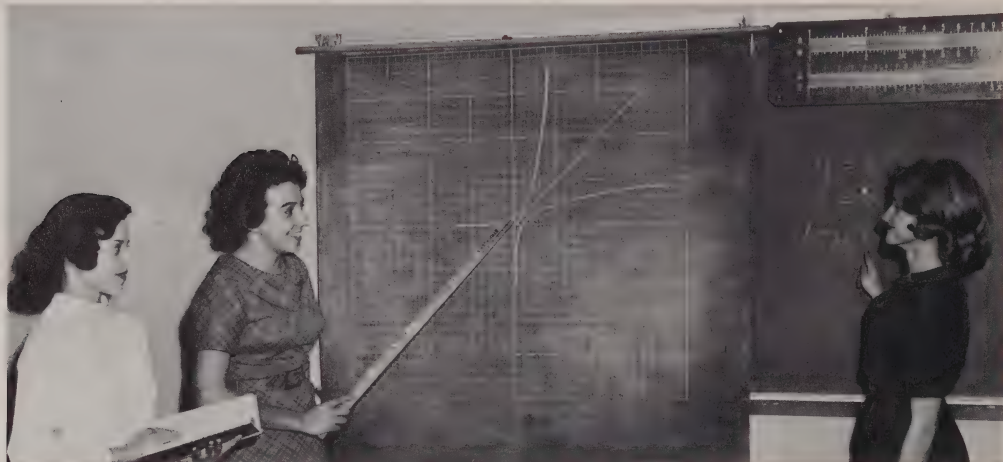

Mr. Crawford's students work on tolerance of measurement.

MODERN MATH

Mr. Crawford's CONSUMER'S MATH - Bonnie Good, Buddy Alger, Larry Knight, and Sue Alger work on problems dealing with business.

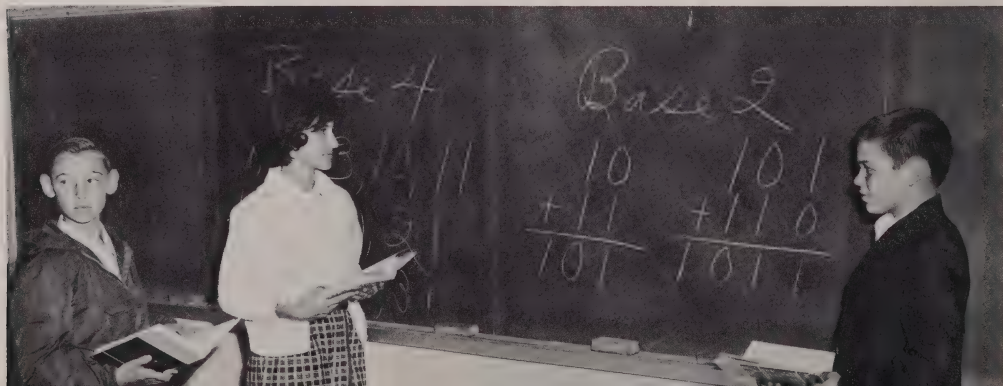

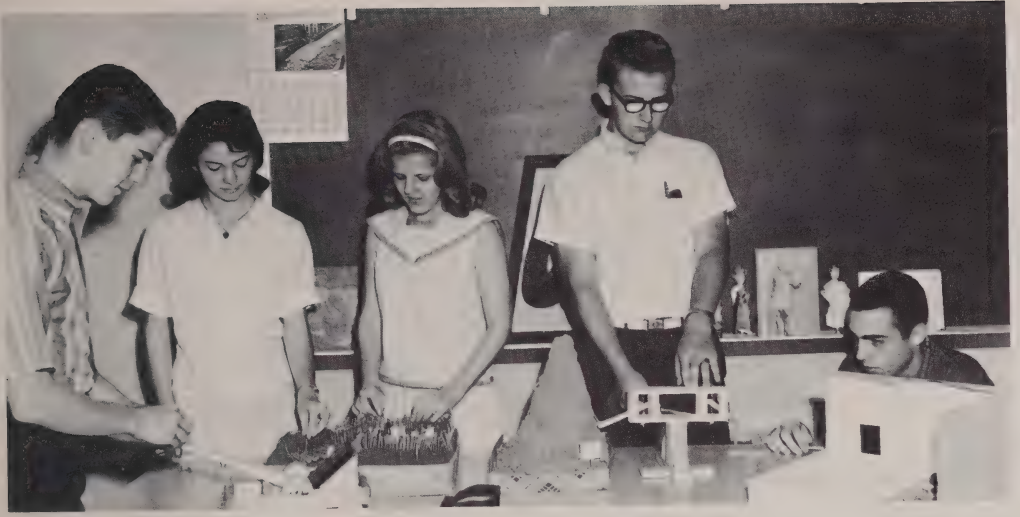

Pat Kite, Martha Shuler, and Pat Roudabush demonstrate the relation between exponents and logarithms in Mrs. Murphy's TRIG CLASS.

MATH STUDENTS EXPLORE UNKNOWNNS IN THE WORLD OF NUMBERS . . .

Just think!! At age 6 I was 110 in base 2.

David Lucas, Bonnie Hilliard, and Lester Meadows explore some "unknownns" in Miss Norman's EIGHTH GRADE MATH CLASS.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES FEATURE REALISM IN CLASSROOMS . . .

SPANISH REALIA - Judy Long, Bonnie Jewell, Freddie Kite, Mr. Vile, Butch Lankford, and Judy Lucas play Spanish Bingo.

Joyce Whiteside, using potassium permanganate ( $\text{KMnO}_3$ ) solution, is demonstrating capillary force.

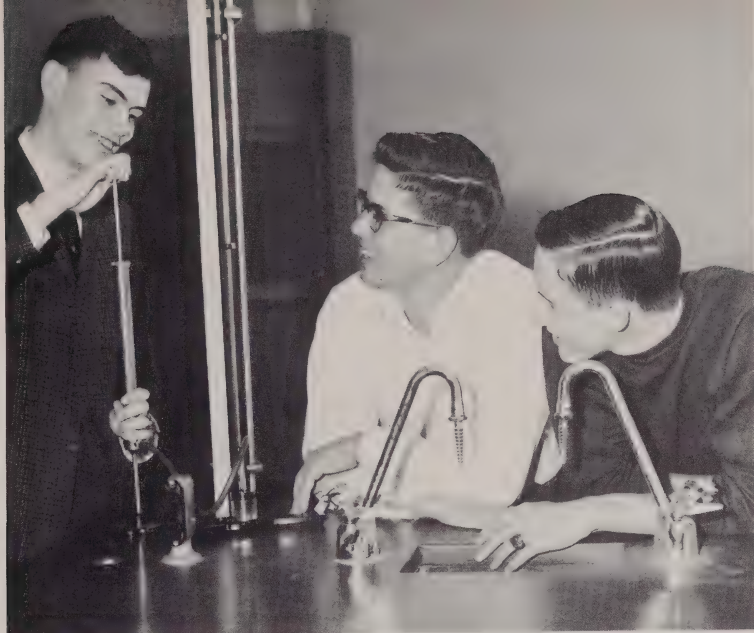

Opening wide avenues of learning to a large number of students, science teachers introduced many new concepts in every field of science. Sophomores studied BIOLOGY and EARTH SCIENCE, while juniors and seniors who manifested a genuine interest moved on to CHEMISTRY and PHYSICS. Dissecting an earthworm, looking through a microscope to find life in a drop of water, or finding out blood types made biology class exciting.

The interest caught in this picture is the rule, rather than the exception, in presenting biology as an interesting and meaningful approach to school life.

Capillarity, as demonstrated by Joyce Whiteside, is a positive force working against gravity, helping water to rise in the stems of plants against the pull of gravity. This is one of four major methods, all of which work together, of getting water from the roots to the leaves of plants, sometimes a hundred or more feet above the ground, making possible the complex plant life about us. Frankie Smith, Robert Cave, and Chester Knighting worked on the experiment with Joyce.

In Mr. James Logan's PHYSICS CLASS, three senior students, Randolph Foltz, Kenneth Horst, and Alton Lowery, prepare a demonstration barometer.

EARTH SCIENCE STUDENTS PROBE PROBLEMS OF WEATHERING AND EROSION . . .

In Mr. Melvin Miller's EARTH SCIENCE CLASS, Joanne Alger, Patsy Foltz, Kenneth Hilliard, Roy Hilliard, Harrison Cabbage, and Jackie McDaniel study rock formations.

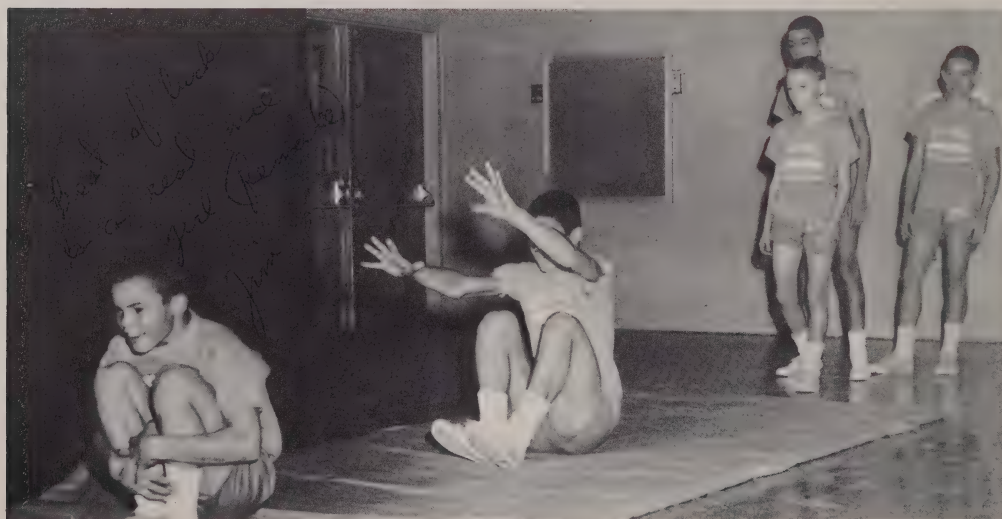

In Mr. Carter Ellis' EIGHTH GRADE CLASS, Steve Smith climbs the rope as Scott Ruffner, Jim Reynolds, Jim Rinaca and Ronnie Tappy wait for the opportunity to test their skills.

Under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Judd and Mr. Carter Ellis, students at PCHS learned sportsmanship as well as physical fitness. By participating in track each student of Mr. Don Dofflemyer could display his ability. Skill and sportsmanship were demonstrated in homeroom IN-TRAMURAL contests. The Senior Boys won the contest between MR. RAMSEY'S SOPHOMORE CLASS and MR. HOTT'S SENIOR CLASS. The SENIOR GIRLS' TEAM won the intramural contest the third consecutive year.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

TEACHES SPORTSMANSHIP AS WELL AS PHYSICAL FITNESS . . .

Jim Reynolds, Jim Rinaca, Ronnie Tappy, Scott Ruffner, and Steve Smith demonstrate their agility on the TUMBLING PADS.

NINTH AND TENTH GRADERS ENTER COMPETITIVE TEAM SPORTS . . .

Ann Smith, Donna Shaffer, Marty Gravett, Doris Ellen Judd, Barbara Babb, Jane Good, and Joyce Hensley learn volleyball rules in EIGHTH GRADE CLASS.

Students in WOODWORK classes learned first to build small articles and then to construct larger pieces of furniture. In METALWORK classes the boys learned to operate welders, lathes, surface grinders, and milling machines. They also acquired the technique of metal-casting.

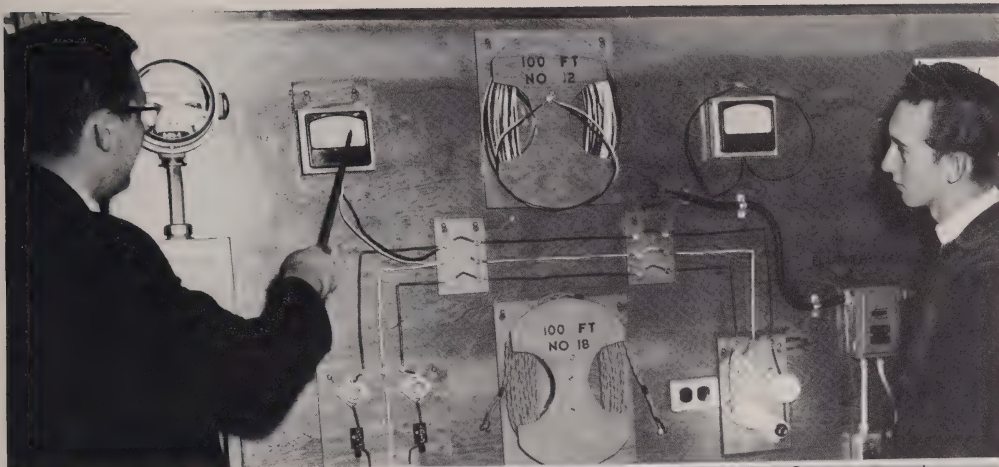

The addition of new equipment included a paint-spraying outfit, a band saw, a disc sander, and hand tools for metalwork and woodworking.

Kenneth Burns, a METALWORKING student, drills out a stainless steel nut to make a ring.

COURSES IN INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEVELOP CREATIVE TALENTS . . .

Wayne Aleshire turns a plastic foregrip for a shotgun.

Mr. Lawrence Roller, VO-AG instructor, demonstrates basic electric principles to Randall Young.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Gerald Cabbage demonstrates Oxygen-Propane Cutting.

Donnie Wright, Rondel Hilliard, James Sullivan, and Joe Hilliard prepare a display on Forest-Fire Prevention.

HOME ECONOMICS

offered girls the opportunity to acquire knowledge of homemaking, family relationships, and child development. Study was made in personal as well as in housekeeping skills. Classes acquired dexterity in sewing and cooking—from the handy needle to the versatile sewing machine; from the sauce pan to the pressure cooker. New equipment included draperies, cornice lighting, pictures, and sewing machines.

THE PAGE FOCUSES ON THE ADMINISTRATION . . .

The school is a living, growing thing involving the school board, school staff, principal, secretary, cafeteria workers, custodians, students, parents, and businessmen. These people cooperated in making a smooth-running facility and a successful term. Equipment, paid for by county- state- federal monies, has been added in the vocational-technical-educational areas of our school. New equipment has been secured for the Industrial Arts Department, Agriculture, Home Economics, the Business Department, and the Library. Equipment, costing $2200.00, has been placed in the Agricultural Shops. Advances made by additional equipment for vocational-technical education, by library purchases, by adding a teacher in the math department, and by the emphasis on MUSIC with the addition of CHORUS carrying one credit are the major developments in curriculum this year.

The brains and muscles behind our school's smooth operation is Mr. Pugh, our principal. Any success we have had in our clubs, classes, athletics, and activities is due in no small measure to his enlightened guidance. We have his able administration to thank for our smooth-running school.

THE PAGE FOCUSES ON THE CLASSES . . .

Students at PCH find themselves with certain basic hopes and obligations as they progress through school. Perhaps the most important of these is making their particular class one of which they may be proud by fulfilling their individual duties. A SUPERIOR CLASS FEATURES SCHOLASTIC IMPROVEMENT along with active participation by each student in class-sponsored activities. We believe that the success of the entire high school is very dependent upon each student's desire to make his class an improvement on the one before it. Just as our school expanded through adding classroom equipment, so each student in the graduating class has expanded emotionally, academically, and socially through attending PAGE COUNTY HIGH. Each senior has neared the completion of a four-year period of growth and transition. Teachers, studies, activities, and friendships have added to his completeness. Recorded here are students who enjoyed them with us.

THE PAGE FOCUSES ON THE ADVERTISEMENTS . . .

In this section are the ads of the businesses that have supported our publication. Without their financial support this yearbook would have cost each subscriber several times the price that was charged. These businessmen by their support of not only our annual, but of our newspaper, athletic programs, schedules and fund-raising drives have shown themselves to be dedicated leaders in this community. The entire area - Luray, Stanley, Elkton, Shenandoah, and Harrisonburg have helped us and we ask YOU to support their enterprises.

FOCUS ON THE FORWARD LOOK

The week ending on June 12, 1965 was the climax of the fourth year. As finals approached more students were staying up later at night. The success of their efforts was measured and the week ended with the scholars feeling the relief of having finals behind them. Doug Painter, David Shaffer, and Phillip Vaughn emptied their lockers and faced forward to fields of service and leadership. Going out into a complex world with its Viet Nam, worldwide Communist threat, population explosions, and space rockets they have gained training necessary to cope with the problems that lie ahead.
